

Advancing medicines practice with closed loop technology

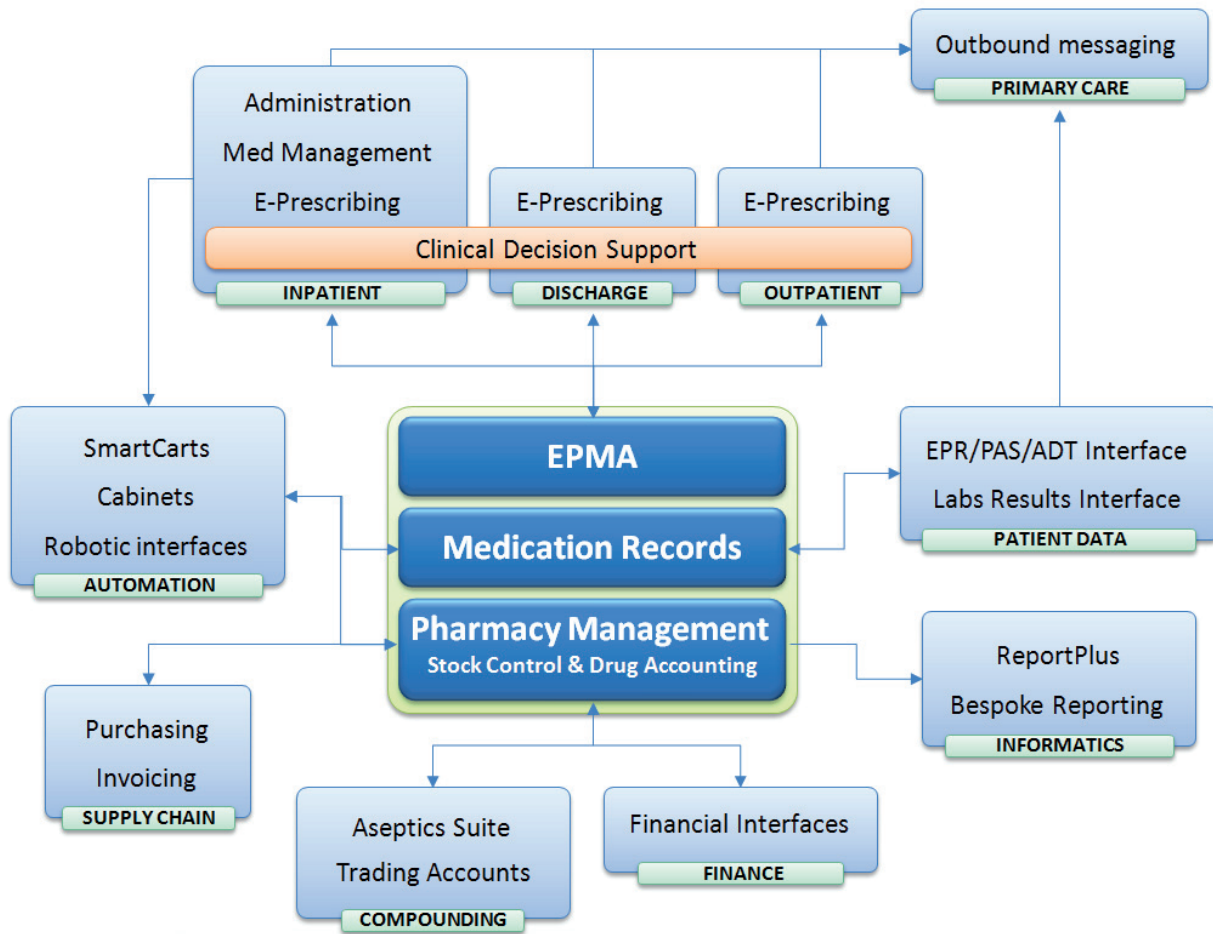

Throughout our customer base, we know there is a heightened awareness surrounding the modernisation of medicines practice. We believe that our products are at the forefront of these issues.

JAC's philosophy is to enable care providers with medicines management solutions that close the loop by managing the entire process in one system environment. By encapsulating patient therapy information in one environment, care providers are assured that the appropriate checks are done, therapies are accurately documented and the results captured and reviewable in real time.

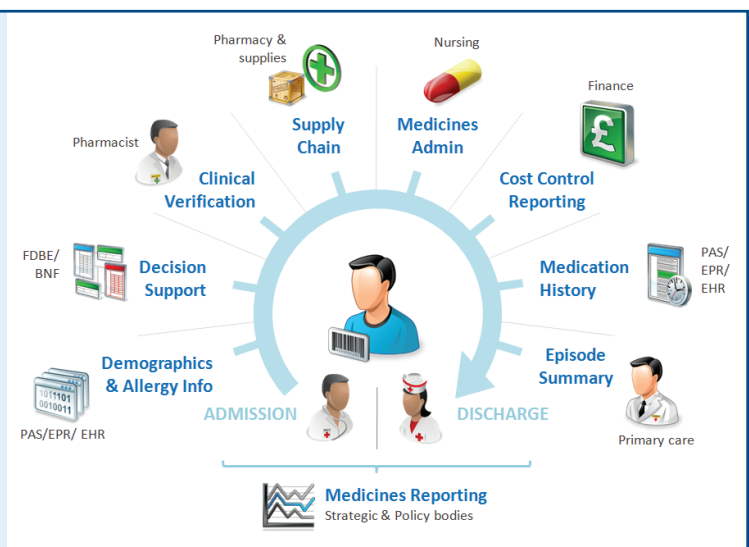

For over 25 years, JAC has evolved its medicines management philosophy to keep pace with the ever changing needs of healthcare. Our vision is to be a recognised leader in the medicines management market and we believe that a continued focus on product quality and customer satisfaction is the strategy that will take us to our goals.

What does the JAC solution look like?

Information sharing & collaboration

Medicines practice is still at the heart of acute therapy and access to medicines data throughout the NHS is vital for modernised healthcare delivery. The JAC solution is designed to work alongside or within larger HIS or EPR implementations; receiving and sharing relevant data with other clinical and administrative systems.
